Grayslake Hears W. F. Schilling on Coop. Marketing

W. F. Schilling of Northfield, Minn., spoke on the organization of cooperative marketing before a large audience at the opera house at Grayslake Tuesday night.

Mr. Schilling is speaking in this section for the interest of the Marketing company and thus far has interested the farmers of the Chicago district who have had the privilege of hearing him.

Mr. Schilling is president of the Twin Cities Milk Producers Association, a co-operative marketing company which supplies St. Paul and Minneapolis with milk and vice president of the National Milk Producers Association.

The producers in the neighborhood of the Twin Cities are receiving more money for their product than the farmers in the Chicago zone while the consumer at the same time is paying less for the bottled milk in the Twin Cities. Mr. Schilling intends to tell the Chicago producers the reason why.

No other organization in the United States is working under a plan so nearly identical with the Committee of Nine plan and the reason for its success will be covered by Mr. Schilling in his series of 12 speeches.

Before addressing his first gathering of producers in Porter County, Mr. Schilling will be the guest of the Val-paris Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon. He urges the close co-operation between farmers and business men and tells how community work started in his home town of Northfield. Several years ago when the farmers were forced to give up the raising of wheat and oats because of the chin and army bugs they chose dairy cattle industry. In the development of the industry the business men of Northfield took an important part by co-operating with the farmers wherever they could be of assistance.

He strongly urges farmers throughout the Chicago zone to co-operate in a same manner in marketing their dairy product; and says it will benefit both the producer and consumer in just the same way as it has benefitted them in the Twin Cities.

Mr. Schilling explained that the Twin

City farmers have their own agents to do the testing of milk, and said Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin farmers are to blame if they do not see to it that they get a satisfactory test on all products.

"Farmers of Minnesota are receiving $2.30 a hundred pounds for milk," he said, while the consumers are only paying the dealers 10 cents a quart. This price was made possible by less expense to the dealers in handling the product and consequently less spread in the price between the producer and consumer.

"The worst feature is that the farmer has no check on the testing of his milk and has to take the word of the buyer for its test. His check contains that record and when he cashes it he loses the record, so he has no recourse.

If we had a co-operative association we could stop all that and the farmer would have supervision over the testing of his own milk."

Big Crowd at Farm Bureau Decennial

The pageant at the beginning went back to the pioneer days when there were no organizations. A number from Diamond Lake had part in the "Planter's Scene," in which the quaint costumes of yesterday, the stage coaches, the old farm implements were shown. Then was displayed the start of the farmers' institute, and of the extension service of the various colleges of agriculture.

Step by step the farm bureau epic was unfolded by the four thousand farmer actors to the time of the formation of the first two Illinois farm bureaus in DeKalb and Kankakee counties. Many of the actors were only going over the scenes that they had once participated in in real life.

After showing Illinois dotted with well established farm bureaus, the pageant displayed the need of the farmer for a larger, a state-wide organization. It traced the beginnings of the Illinois Agricultural association in 1916 up to the point of its present membership of 100,000 in 95 counties. It showed the growth of the American Farm Bureau Federation from its start in 1919 to its present membership of one million in 47 states.

The immense crowd took several hours to get out of the city in automobiles after the close of the pageant. Approximately 150 from Lake county were a part of the crowd.

The celebration was declared by officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation to be the greatest event ever staged by farmers anywhere.

How Arizona City Got Name.

Phoenix, Ariz., was built near the well-defined ruins of an ancient pueblo. Darrell Duppa, a scholar who was with the men who chose the spot, said: "Let us call it Phoenix, for here, upon the old, a new city shall rise," and told them of the bird in mythology called phoenix which arose from its own ashes.

Only the best cows in the state are admitted to this plant and but sixty of them can be taken at a time. They are under the care of an expert feeder to test them out for their producing ability so as to determine whether to keep their offspring as foundation stock.

When we recall that the average cow of Lake county produces only about 3500 pounds of milk and 150 pounds of butter in a year you will readily see that these 12 cows are worth a large herd of ordinary cows. These cows will be bred to Kink Colantha Aaggie Clothilde No. 249457, the fine bull at the plant.

Highest-Priced Tobacco.

The highest-priced tobacco grown in the world is produced in a certain area near the western coast of Cuba which is more than twenty-five miles square. The fine aromatic tobacco grown there can be produced nowhere else.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Beauty in the South.

In the South the crane myrtle becomes a small tree and turns a brilliant bronze almost or quite red, says the American Forestry Magazine. It is much grown for its summer and early fall flowers, but it also has value for the color of its ripening foliage on the approach of cold weather.

A Souvenir.

The Boston Transcript recently ran across this in a story: "She held out her hand and the young man took it and departed."

Two teaspoonsful of Tanlac in a little water, taken three times a day just before meals, will make you eat better, sleep better and work better. S. H. Reeves.

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

Remember the good motto, I'll never miss church if I can help it."

Everybody should study the Bible earnestly with prayer every day.

The Ladies Aid are preparing for their midsummer bazaar to be held on July 27.

Better attendance in Sunday School last Sunday, even though many are away on vacation. Everybody should be in Sunday School.

Last Sunday morning's theme was "Our Supreme Tragedy." Jacob's words, "Surely God is in this place and I knew it not," was the text. The fact that Jacob had failed to sense the presence of God was declared to be his tragedy; and the same thing is the supreme tragedy of all of us and of the world—we fail to sense the presence of God.

"God is a Spirit," Jesus told us, and being spirit, he can be everywhere all the time. He is present in every inch of space and every atom of material things about us. He is all around us and within us.

In the depths of every soul, God has made a secret place, a palace for His own dwelling, in the very center of our being. There, He is always present. There, He sits and waits for us to recognize Him, waits to speak with us, to give us strength and beauty and goodness and joy. Our tragedy is that God, thus sitting in the palace of our souls is unseen, unfelt, unknown, unrecognized, forgotten, neglected and we remain spiritually and morally weak and poor and helpless and are lacking the goodness and joy that make life full and abundant and rich and sweet and radiant and glorious.

Those who do force themselves to think on God, to pray, to study His word, to entertain Him, commune with Him, love Him, praise Him, work for Him, yield to His control, these are the real people of the earth. They are the people who stand when others fall. They are the ones who keep things going when others would stop and let everything go to ruin. They have the strength to stand against the tides of wickedness and cruelty that sweep over communities and over the world.

There never was a time when it was so hard to keep ourselves in a condition in which we do recognize God and sense His presence as now. Much wealth, many inventions and the glare and blare and jazz and jargon and glitter of things just now, make their constant appeal to the eyes and ears and hearts and minds and fill the whole field of our consciousness unless we set our faces as a flint to shut the doors of our souls to the outer world of mere things and shut ourselves in alone with God for a good period of time every day. This we must do, for it is the only hope we have as individuals and it is the only possible hope for the world—that men and women and boys and girls—each as an individual—shall, for a considerable time each day, shut out the world of mere things and sit in the palace of their own souls with God and held communion with Him, feel His presence and His holy love, and so be transformed into His likeness.

EVERY SUBSCRIBER A STOCKHOLDER

This Is Aim of Illinois Bell Telephone Company in Offering A. T. & T. Stock to Public. Employees Will Assist in Sales.

To assist in obtaining a wider ownership in the telephone industry, the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, through its employees, has planned to sell a limited amount of stock in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to the public of Illinois.

This is not new stock of the American Company, but stock which is expected to be obtained and sold at the market price. The purpose is to effect redistribution and place the shares in the hands of telephone subscribers and users. Announcement of the plan was made in the Bell Telephone News, the official magazine of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

Arrangements have been made for the sale of this stock in every exchange of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, and the details will be handled by the commercial representatives. Employees in all departments, however, will assist in obtaining new shareholders.

The Bell System is required to provide approximately $215,000,000 each year for additions and replacements in order that telephone facilities may be furnished those who want service. It is more than most European nations spent annually for public purposes before the war. It is two and one-half times the annual expenditure of the United States government the year before the Civil War, and it is more than the annual pre-war expense of Spain, Brazil, Argentina or Canada.

Firestone

GUM-DIPPED CORDS and Their High Mileage Records

The high mileage records of Firestone Cords continue to emphasize the fact that Firestone methods are different and better. These records, steadily increasing in number and in mileage totals, justify the Firestone contention that there is one best way to build tires.

Among the primary sources of Firestone extra mileage is double gum-dipping—the saturation of the cord plies in a vat of liquid gum—thus coating each cord and virtually eliminating internal heat and friction.

Another is Firestone air bag curing, with its 200 pound pressure, which places every cord accurately and equalizes the tension.

By blending the rubbers of different plantations and types, and by tempering it before mixing, Firestone men add still more mileage.

Many cord tires are good—a few are better—Firestone users say one is best.

Those who have already experienced Firestone mileage, have stopped shopping and experimenting—they have made these cords standard equipment. Investigate your friends' success with Firestone Cords—and buy your next tire accordingly. Come in and get your share of extra mileage.

Demands for Electric Power Grow Faster Than Population

THE CHART opposite shows how the output of the electric plants of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois has grown in the past 10 years.

THE USES OF ELECTRICITY, as well as GAS, have multiplied so rapidly that the Company has an ever increasing business.

TO PROVIDE THE VITAL PUBLIC SERVICES electric power and gas manufacturing plants have been built and enlarged, hundreds of miles of electric and gas transmission and distributing systems have been constructed and the funds of thousands of investors employed at fair wages.

ALL ESTIMATES of future requirements for the Company's products indicate an even more rapid increase of public demands for electricity than in the past. The same is true of gas, which now has more than 1,000 industrial uses besides its employment in the households.

THAT BUSINESS in Northern Illinois is on the upturn is indicated by the fact that in the first five months of this year, sales of electric power by the Public Service Company have increased 24 per cent. Sales of gas show an increase of 12 per cent as compared with the corresponding period of 1921. This is proof of more and better business in the territory.

TRACTOR ON TRIP TO CANADA

City of Settlers From United States on Way to the Land of Big Crops.

Settlers on their way to and through the land of big crops do not always rely on the roads for transportation. Here, for instance, is a photograph of a party from one of the northern states on the way to their new home near Lake Winnipegosis, Manitoba. They were a sturdy, self-reliant lot and carried with them a full complement of farm machinery. With the tractor outfit they intended to commence rather extensive operations this spring on the land which their scouts had already inspected and reported on favorably as to its productiveness.

At almost every point on the Canadian border where there are located means for admitting settlers, the reports are that it is almost a daily occurrence to admit settlers from states as far off as Texas who have adopted the automobile as a means to carry themselves and their families to the country of their choice. Such settlers are bound to succeed. Some of them go two or three hundred miles inland, and select their homes in the park districts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Others purchase improved and unimproved farms in the more thickly settled districts in the southerly and central parts of these provinces. Wherever they may go, they are certain to secure land of certain possibilities. They will see grain crops of high value, wheat that will produce from 20 to 40 bushels per acre, oats giving high yields, barley a certain producer, and grass and fodder in quantity and quality that will satisfy them that the cattle and stock raising possibilities are fully as good as they have been told.

The reports from all parts of Western Canada at the present time fully bear out the most optimistic expectations and hopes of the early days of seeding. Evidence of the splendid growth of this year is the fact that alfalfa was cut on the 15th of June and yielded nearly two tons to the acre.

Corn planted on the 23rd of May, on the 5th of June was showing several inches about the ground, and making glad the heart of the farmer who had built his silo, which he hoped to fill in the latter days of August.

HARDING ORDERS MINING RESUMED

President Tells Miners and Operators to Submit to Arbitration.

U. S. TO NAME COMMISSION

Executive Notifies Both Miners and Operators Mining Must Be Resumed at Once—Must Agree to Arbitration.

Washington, July 12.—President Harding on Monday delivered the government's final ultimatum to the warring coal miners and operators.

At a brief, tense session at the White House, the President flatly informed them that coal mining activities must be resumed at once and that they must submit the disputes which they apparently are unable to iron out to the arbitration of a commission appointed by the government.

In his talk to the coal operators and miners the President said:

"The information has come to me that your conference is deadlocked or at the best attempting to agree upon plans which will require extended time to work out. I have said heretofore that the government prefers you, who are parties to the dispute, should settle it between yourselves because you best understand all the problems involved.

"The government cannot settle it for you. It will force no man to work against his free will; it will force no man to employ men against the free exercise of an employer's right. The government will not be a partisan, but the government is concerned with coal production sufficient to meet the industrial and transportation requirements of the country and to safeguard against fuel famine when winter comes again, and it is desired to have production resumed at once.

"Your government does desire to be helpful. With such a thought, therefore, I submit to you the following proposal:

"Mine workers are to return to work on the scale of wages which expired last March 31 and mines now idle because of strike or suspended operations to resume activities without interference with activities of mines now working.

"The 1922 scale to be effective until August 10.

"A coal commission to be created at once, consisting of three members selected by the mine workers, three members selected by the mine operators and five members to be named by the President. All decisions by this commission shall be accepted as final.

"This commission to determine, if possible, within 30 days from today, for the miners on a strike, a temporary basic wage scale which shall be effective until March 1, 1923.

"In event that the commission is unable to report its scale by August 10, it shall have power to direct continued work on the 1922 scale until a superseding scale is ready.

"The commission shall investigate exhaustively every phase of the coal industry. It shall reveal every cost of production and transportation. The President will ask congress to confer authority for the most thorough investigation and make appropriations necessary to do such work.

"The commission shall make recommendations looking to the establishment or maintenance of industrial peace in the coal industry, the elimination of waste due to intermittency and instability and suggest plans for dependable fuel supply.

"I have taken this short cut to a resumption of operations because I believe it to be in the interests of public welfare.

"It is that simple form of adjusting disputes which answers the call of good conscience and a just civilization. When two great forces do not agree, there must be a peaceful way to adjustment and such an arbitration opens the way.

"I do not expect a reply without due consideration. Please take the proposal to separate conferences. I wish you to appraise the situation, weigh your responsibilities and then answer this proposal as you wish to be appraised by American public opinion.

"I am speaking first of all for the public interests, but I am likewise mindful of the rights of both workers and operators. You are also an inseparable part of that public interest. With due regard to all concerned, it ought to be easy to find a way to resume activities and command the approval of the American public."

NEGRO'S MEMORY A PUZZLE

Of Limited Educational Attainments, Colored Man Has Wonderful Fund of Useful Information.

Jim Gilmore, a negro aged fifty-six, who lives in the town of Greenville, Tex., is said by scientists who have examined him, to possess one of the most remarkable memories known. With apparently a small amount of educational training Gilmore is able to quote any verse in the Bible suggested to him. He answers any questions pertaining to the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the late World war, giving dates of all outstanding historical events. He can name every station and water tank from San Francisco to New York on the principal transcontinental railroads.

There seems to be no limit to the amount of poetry Gilmore can quote. "The Sinking of the Titanic," numbering 40 verses, and "The World War From Beginning to End," in 60 verses and three parts, is another literary achievement of which he can boast. He has traveled extensively and possesses an excellent vocabulary for one of limited education.—Exchange.

But, by cripes, she shore cut off that there snake's head as she went down!"—Kansas City Star.

Transaction of Youthful Newspaper Proprietor Had Been on a Strictly Business Basis.

George developed a journalistic instinct at the early age of fifteen. With the consent of his father and some assistance from the same source he bought an "amateur printing outfit" and started the Kilmerville Monthly Journal, subscription price 50 cents a year, payable in advance. "I suppose you call yourself the editor and proprietor of this office," remarked an envious young associate who dropped in at his "sanctum" in the basement of the paternal dwelling one day.

"Of course I do," responded the youthful journalist. "I don't owe a cent on it."

"Proprietor! Umph. Everybody knows you got $25 from your father to start it with."

"Yes, sir!" stoutly rejoined George. "And his subscription for the Journal is marked paid fifty years ahead on my books!"—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

British Columbia Goat Farms.
There are several farms in British Columbia where goats are raised exclusively and which have herds of several hundred each. These farms not only make excellent profits on milk which is shipped to Vancouver, Victoria and other cities for the use of children and invalids, but on young animals that are sold to supply the rapidly developing market.

Farm Bureau News

C. E. WHEELLOCK of Libertyville, Ill.

SANITARY DRINKING CUPS
Fresh, pure water is one of the essentials in maintaining a healthy herd of cattle. Drinking cups at the stalls make it accessible at all times during the winter season when the cows are in the barn, and results indicate that a continuous supply of fresh water at a moderate temperature increases the flow of milk.

There are two systems of supplying water to the drinking cups. In one the water is forced up into the cups and the other has the water supplied from pipes overhead.

Where the water is fed from below there is always a chance for one cup certainly that water from one cup will drain down the pipe and be forced up into other cups along the same line. This furnishes a very good means of transferring disease germs from an unhealthy animal to other cows in the herd that are watered from the same water main.

Such diseases as tuberculosis and abortion may be easily carried in the drinking water, and any water system that allows discharges from the nose or mouth of one animal to be passed on to another is a very probable source of infection.

Anyone who considers putting in a drinking cup system should consider this sanitary feature of the system installed.

In some cases where disease keeps appearing in a herd of cattle and every source of infection has apparently been investigated, the trouble might be located in the water system if it is of the kind just described.

Water systems with the overhead feed are safer to use, as there is no chance for disease to be carried from animal to another where the water main is above the cups.

KEEPING DOWN THE WEEDS
The weed problem is growing worse. Every year our attention is called to a new weed which is not common to the state or community. In a survey of the most noxious weeds in the state of Illinois, it was found that out of the 27 worst weeds, only six of them were native to the state. It is evident then, that most of our noxious weeds have come from foreign countries, through importation of impure seed.

The first way to keep down weeds is to buy pure home-grown seed, if possible. No method of eradication or control will be effective as long as weed seeds are purchased and sown on the farms. Likewise, if the farm is already infested with weed pests, no amount of pure seed will eradicate them. The purchase of pure seed and eradication of weeds, already present, go hand in hand to bring about successful control.

Weeds pass through five stages in their full development, viz: germination, seedling, active growth, reproduction and seed stages. Thorough preparation of the seed bed and early cultivation of the crop, while weeds are in the germination and seedling stages, will make eradication easy since these stages are very weak in the life cycle of the plant.

In late summer, after the harvest of small grains, weeds which have come into the active growth stage can be plowed under. Pastures and roadsides should be mowed when the plants are in flower, since this also is a weak stage in the life of the plant. Nothing can be done after weeds have produced seed except to burn over waste places so as to prevent further spread of the seeds.—John Pieper, Crops Dept. University of Illinois.
